Brand New Book. Excerpt from The Science of Religion Our ordinary conception Of God is that He is Super-human, Infinite, Omnipresent, Omnis cient, and the like. In this general concep tion there are many variations. Some call God Personal, some Impersonal, and so forth. The point emphasized in this book is that whatever conception we have of God, if it does not in?uence our daily conduct, if every-day life does not find an inspiration from it, and if it is not found universally necessary, then that conception is worse than useless. If God is not conceived in such a way that we can not do without Him in the satisfaction Of a want, in our dealings with people, in earning money, in reading a book, in passing an examination, in the doing of the most tri?ing or the highest duties, then it is better we should act discreetly, taking His useless name less into churches and temples. God may be Infinite, Omnipresent, Omniscient. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
