History geek Jane Peterson had just hit the refresh button on her life when, during a Fort Pulaski Civil War reenactment, she is violently thrust into a raging siege with brutal consequences. The year 2012 is reset to 1862 amid the colorful and historic characters of wartime Savannah, Georgia. Charles H. Olmstead, Robert E. Lee, Mary Marshall . . . no way! Within the rapidly diminishing naivety of an illustrious South, Jane must face stunning truths and the impact of her knowledge. In a story of good and evil, murder and intrigue, grave reality and the supernatural, Jane learns that loving history and living it are two entirely different things. He refuses to believe it! His inseparable friend since third grade vanished on her 24th birthday. Bryce McKenzie, a med student at UGA, knew in Jane he had a unique bond. What he had not realized was just how much she meant to him until she was inexplicably gone. Bryce vows never to give up on the girl he loves. With the help of Sophie Downing, Jane's co-worker and only witness to her freak disappearance, he searches for the key to unlock an impossible mystery. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
